SCHOOL OF PUBLIC HEALTH
NATIONAL PUBLIC HEALTH WEEK
These events are part of National Public Health Week | April 5 - 11, 2021
Building Bridges to Better Health.

4.5 Monday, April 5 | 1-3 PM
FORUM: BUILDING HEALTHY COMMUNITIES FROM THE GRASSROOTS
Join this conversation about the community-led movements that are creating a stronger, safer, healthier and more inclusive world.

4.6 Tuesday, April 6
12-1:30 PM
BUILDING BRIDGES TO ADVANCE EQUITY
We welcome interested public health professionals, local organizers, advocates and community members interested in public health to learn about and share approaches for addressing racial equity in community health initiatives.

7-8 PM
NPHW AND AJPH: A DIALOGUE
Join moderator and AJPH Editor-in-Chief Alfredo Morabia, MD, PhD, and AJPH authors as they discuss what the future of public health will look like, and the steps to get there.

4.7 Wednesday, April 7 | 2-3 PM
TWITTER CHAT
We’ll chat about all things public health, celebrate everything public health has accomplished and talk about where the movement is going using #NPHWChat.

4.8 Thursday, April 8
12-1 PM
LESSONS IN MENTORING WEBINAR
This webinar is designed for public health professionals to gain insight from experienced mentors on how to get started in mentoring, how to build these relationships, how to be an effective mentor during the pandemic, and much more.

5-6 PM
GET HIRED AFTER GRADUATION PANEL
Join us for this webinar and discussion featuring a dynamic panel of young public health professionals and learn tips and tricks from those who have been in your shoes.

All events, hosted virtually by APHA, are free and open to everyone!

To register and see a full list of events, visit:

nphw.org